SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL:

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1770.

His MAJESTY's moſt Gracious SPEECH to both Houſes of PARLIAMENT, on Tueſday the Ninth Day of January, 1770.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is with much Concern, that I find myſelf obliged to open this Parliament, with acquainting you, that the Diſtemper among the Horned Cattle, has lately broke out in this kingdom, notwithſtanding every Precaution that could be uſed for preventing the Infection from foreign Parts. Upon the firſt Notice of its actual Appearance, my next Attention was to ſtop, if poſſible, its further progreſs, and as the Succeſs of thoſe Endeavours muſt, in all Probability, have been entirely defeated, by any the leaſt Degree of Delay in the Application of them, I thought it abſolutely neceſſary, with the Advice of my Privy Council, to give immediate Directions for every Step to be taken, that appeared moſt capable of checking the inſtant Danger of the ſpreading of the Infection, until I could have an Opportunity of conſulting my Parliament upon ſome more permanent Meaſures, for ſecuring us againſt ſo great a Calamity; and to your immediate and moſt ſerious Conſideration, I earneſtly recommend this very important Object.

I have given my Parliament repeated Aſſurances, that it has always been, my fixed Purpoſe, to preſerve the General Tranquillity, maintaining at the ſame Time, the Dignity and Honour of my Crown, together with the juſt Rights and Intereſt of my People. The uncommon Burthens which my Subjects have borne ſo chearfully, in order to bring the late War to a happy Concluſion, muſt be an additional Motive, to make me vigilant to prevent the preſent Diſturbances in Europe from extending to any Part, where the Security, Honour, or Intereſt, of this Nation, may make it neceſſary for my Crown to become a Party. The Aſſurances I receive from the other Great Powers, afford me Reaſon to believe, that my Endeavours will continue to be ſucceſsful; I ſhall ſtill make the General Intereſt of Europe the Object of my Attention; and while I ſteadily ſupport my own Rights, I ſhall be equally careful, not to acknowledge the Claims of any other Powers, contrary to the Limitations of the late Treaties of Peace.

It is needleſs for me to recommend to the ſerious Attention of my Parliament, the State of my Government in America; I have endeavoured, on my Part, by every Means, to bring back my Subjects there, to their Duty and to a due Senſe of Lawful Authority. It gives me much Concern to inform you, that the Succeſs of my Endeavours has not anſwered my Expectations, and that in ſome of my Colonies, many Perſons have embarked in Meaſures, highly unwarrantable, and calculated to deſtroy the Commercial Connection between them and the Mother Country.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Eſtimates to be laid before you: I am perſuaded that your Affection for my Perſon and Government, and your Zeal for the Public Good, will induce you to grant ſuch Supplies, as are neceſſary; and you may be aſſured, that on my Part, they ſhall be managed with the ſtricteſt Oeconomy.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

As the Welfare and Proſperity of my People, have always been the Object of my Wiſhes, and the Rule of my Actions, ſo I am perſuaded, from my Experience of your Conduct, that you will be governed in your Proceedings by the ſame Principles; my ready Concurrence and Support, in every Meaſure that may ſerve to promote thoſe Ends, you may always depend upon. On you it would be now, more than ever, incumbent to avoid all Heats and Animoſities among yourſelves, and to cultivate that Spirit of Harmony, which becomes thoſe who have but one Common Object in their View, and which may be moſt likely to give Authority and Efficacy to the Reſult of your Deliberations: Such a Conduct, on your Parts, will, above all Things, contribute to maintain, in their proper Luſtre, the Strength, the Reputation, and the Proſperity of this Country; to ſtrengthen the Attachment of my Subjects to that excellent Conſtitution of Government, from which they derive ſuch diſtinguiſhed Advantages; and, to cauſe the firm Reliance and Confidence, which I have in the Wiſdom of my Parliament, as well as in their Zeal for the true Intereſt of my People, to be juſtified and approved both at Home and Abroad.

LONDON, NOVEMBER 15.

ACCOUNTS from Turin mention, that it was univerſally believed the King of Sardinia would declare war againſt the republic of Genoa in a few weeks, unleſs that ſtate made ſome conceſſions to his Sardinian Majeſty, which it was very unlikely to expect they would do, eſpecially as they pretend that the French king will take their part in the preſent diſpute, and order a large body of his troops to their aſſiſtance.

Four thouſand houſes have been overthrown at Bagdad by an earthquake, and we are told there is not a houſe in that city but what has received ſome damage.

The Lords Commiſſioners preſent yeſterday at the prorogation of the Parliament, were the Lord Chancellor, the Earl of Stormont, and Lord Viſcount Falmouth.

An evening paper ſays, that the King of Pruſſia is preparing to make himſelf maſter of a neighbouring electorate.

November 18. Yeſterday a motion was made in the court of King's-Bench, by Mr. Attorney-General, for an information againſt a certain backſliding patriot, in conſequence of a late attempt to bribe a principal perſon in the adminiſtration, when the letter and affidavit of the former were read; after which the court granted a rule for the abovementioned gentleman to ſhew cauſe on Saturday next, the 25th inſtant.

The ſame day Major Rogers, Governor of Michilimakinack, lately arrived from North-America, was preſented to his Majeſty at St. James's, and had the honour to kiſs the King's hand.

It is confidently aſſerted, that a match has been in agitation for ſome weeks paſt, and will ſhortly be anounced in all the courts of Europe, between Charles Stewart, commonly called the Pretender, and one of the daughters of the French King.

November 22. We are informed that the ſeals, with the title of Lord-Keeper, have been offered to Lord Chief Juſtice Wilmot, and that his Lordſhip declined to accept of them; and that in conſequence of the above refuſal, it is reported the honourable Mr. Yorke has declared for the miniſtry, on the queſtion relating to the Middleſex election; and it is ſaid, is to be made Lord-Keeper before the end of next month.

It is ſaid, that a powerful fleet of obſervation is ordered to be got ready to watch the motions of the French in the Mediterranean, and, if occaſion requires, to aſſiſt the Ruſſian fleet from being overpowered, and from falling a prey to French intrigue; in a time of profound peace.

A noble Lord, who has figured in the eaſtern part of the globe, we hear, has made a propoſal, within theſe few days to government, that if they will ſupply him with twenty ſhips of the line, and ten thouſand land forces, he will undertake to pay off the national debt in the courſe of ſeven years.

On Monday the court of directors of the Eaſt-India company received advices by the Eſſex Eaſt-Indiaman, dated the 13th of May laſt, that a peace is concluded between the governor and council of Madras and Hyder Ally. The forts and places taken from each other to be reſtored: each to bear the expence they have been at: a perpetual league offenſive and defenſive, and the prices of troops hired in ſuch caſes ſtipulated: a mutual exchange and releaſement of priſoners: and a freedom of trade both in the Mycore country and the Carnatick.

Letters received on Monday from Peterſburgh, give an account that the Moldavians have ſubmitted and ſworn allegiance to the Empreſs of Ruſſia.

Yeſterday a motion was made in the court of King's-Bench, to enlarge the impriſonment of Mr. Bingley, and that he might have the benefit of the rules; but the court were of opinion that it could not be granted, as no precedent could be found in ſuch a caſe.

November 24. Yeſterday Colonel Burgoyne kiſſed his Majeſty's hand, on being appointed governor of Dumbarton-caſtle, in the room of Colonel Montgomery, now Earl of Eglinton, who has reſigned.

A great magiſtrate of the city of London has received a letter from the Earl of Chatham, part of which having tranſpired, is ſaid to be as follows: "That, in his opinion, the thanks of the nation were due to the livery of London, for again electing a man ſo upright, independent, and able, to that high office; and he thought they were due alſo to him, for accepting it at the preſent criſis: That he himſelf had never oppoſed, but aſſiſted the preſent miniſtry, when they acted upon conſtitutional principles: That he had formed a reſolution never more to engage himſelf in public buſineſs, but that the preſent alarming ſituation of affairs, and the neceſſity of the times, require it of him, and therefore he is determined to do every thing in his power to co-operate with his Lordſhip, in reſtoring the peace and liberties of the nation."

Orders are given for a quantity of ordnance and military ſtores to be ſhipped for Gibraltar.

November 25. The diſputes betwixt the courts of Vienna and Turin with the republic of Genoa, attended with peremptory demands of territories which that republic ſeem diſpoſed not to give up at any rate, are very untoward circumſtances for the peace of Europe in the preſent conjuncture.

By a gentleman well verſed in naval affairs, we are informed, that Great-Britain is able at this time, to equip on very ſhort notice, eighty ſhips of the line, which would be more than a match for all the ſhipping France and Spain could fit out for many months.

November 27. It is reported, that at a late private conference it was reſolved to offer the Earl of Chatham a Dukedom, with the power of appointing a certain number of his friends to places, if he would join the Premier. But it is aſſerted, that if the Earl of Chatham, ſhould be taken by this trap, it will immediately occaſion a breach between him and Earl Temple, who has declared his determination of having no connection with the miniſtry.

A gentleman who arrived a few days ago from Liſbon, ſays, it is the prevailing opinion there that a rupture between Spain and Portugal is thought unavoidable.

It is reported, that a certain governor has declined ever to return any more to his former department in America.

The reports of a French war that ſo univerſally prevailed laſt week, and now appear to be without foundation, were ſo artfully propagated, that they impoſed upon ſome of the moſt experienced and judicious among the underwriters in the Alley, many of whom would not ſign a policy of inſurance, without an exception being made againſt a capture by the French.

November 29. It is ſaid, a demand of a very important nature, has lately been made upon our court by the Empreſs of Ruſſia.

The univerſity of Oxford, hath honoured General Paoli with the degree of Doctor of Laws.

Monday morning at eleven o'clock, came on in the court of King's-bench, before lord chief-juſtice Mansfield, and the reſt of the judges of that court, the long expected motion, "Whether Samuel Vaughan, Eſq; ſhould not ſhew cauſe in a complaint, at the ſuit of his grace the duke of Graſton, relative to the ſum of five thouſand pounds, offered by that gentleman to his grace, for procuring his ſon the reverſionary grant of clerk of the crown in the iſland of Jamaica." Mr. Wedderburn, on the ſide of the defendant, opened the caſe, and, with uncommon ingenuity, for above an hour, ſaid every thing that argument or ſubtilty could urge. In the exordium of his ſpeech he acknowledged, "THAT though the fact committed by Mr. Vaughan may not, ſtrictly, be defended, as gentlemanly, or honourable, yet it could not properly come before that court as a miſdemeanor in law----that court having no right to take cognizance of actions merely pro correctione morum, as the money, though offered, was not received. He inſtanced this, in the ſuppoſal of a caſe, where a man ſollicits the wife of another, and ſhe refuſes;---on the principle of her refuſal, the law has no claim on the ſollicitor, on account of the immorality of the action; whereas, if ſhe had conſented in the diſhonouring her huſband, then, and only in that caſe, he would be amenable to the court.---Beſides, my Lord, continues Mr. Wedderburn, the ideas that perſons have at this, and the other ſide Temple-bar, in regard to the ſale of public offices, are very different; thoſe at the other ſide imagining, from their general notions of traffic, that as ſome places are ſaleable, all others may, and it may apply very readily to Mr. Vaughan in the preſent caſe, as this very individual place has been formerly ſold for the creditors of a former patentee.----Propoſals of this nature, therefore, my Lord, are ſo cuſtomary, though perhaps not ſo public, that, I believe, were they all to come before your Lordſhip, this court would have little elſe to do: Beſides, in this particular caſe, we have no precedent; no, I will advance, not a ſingle one, that makes it criminal, merely to offer money for the purchaſe of public offices. If ſo, my Lord, if there's not a ſingle Dictum to the contrary, how is Mr. Vaughan blameable for an action, though not in a moral ſenſe praiſe-worthy, yet is in no other reſpect repugnant to the legal inſtitutes of his country? [Here Mr. Vaughan's affidavit was read, which contained little more than what the public has already been acquainted with reſpecting this affair.] He was then anſwered by the ſollicitor general, who was council for the plaintiff, to the following purport:

"My Lord, I SHALL not take up the time of the court, in replying in the ſame ſtile of ingenioufneſs and elegance as my learned brother; the caſe is too obvious, indeed, to require it. He begins by obſerving, that the attempt to do a thing does not become criminal till it is conſummated; but if baſe attempts were not in moſt caſes cognizable, ſociety would ſoon loſe its firmeſt band. The caſe in point is, however, in all caſes, in a free country, the worſt of attempts: It is no leſs than that of trying to ſuborn a miniſter, who has the warmeſt confidence of his King as Privy Counſelor, and Firſt Lord of the Treaſury: To abuſe that confidence by a breach of duty, that would be criminal even in the meaneſt ſubject. In reſpect to the caſe Mr. Wedderburn ſuppoſes, of a perſon ſolliciting the wife of another, let me ſuppoſe another caſe more applicable:---Suppoſe the noble Duke had accepted the bribe, would not common ſenſe, as well as common law, ſay, that the Duke would be accountable for ſuch an act. Now will any one be hardy enough to ſay, that becauſe the noble Duke did not receive the money, Mr. Vaughan is leſs culpable. I am aſhamed of the neceſſity of this ſuppoſal; there is an abſurdity on the face of it. My learned friend has likewiſe obſerved, that if all ſollicitations of this nature were cognizable in this court, your Lordſhip would have little elſe to do. I do not know, my Lord, whether it may be ſo;---but admitting the fact, the buſineſs would be very well worthy your attention, in ſtemming a tide of corruption and venality, that muſt very ſoon ſap the pillars of this conſtitution. Mr. Wedderburn has likewiſe thrown down his gaunt et for me to quote a precedent, where the fact becomes illegal. I will accept it. [Here Mr. Sollicitor General quoted Lord Chief Juſtice Hale on bribery, as well as ſeveral pertinent inſtances in regard to elections.] So that, my Lord, in whatever light this tranſaction comes to be viewed, whether as a diſhonourable action or an illegal one, it equally anſwers to both epithets, and I am ſure your Lordſhip, in your ſerious conſideration, will think ſo, and therefore make the rule abſolute." The lawyers employed on both ſides ſupported the ſentiments of their leaders, which continued till about four o'clock, when lord Mansfield, (after obſerving on the fact, and pleading with great good ſenſe and accuracy) with the unanimous conſent of his brother judges, made the rule abſolute. Lawyers for the defendant, Mr. Wedderburn, and Mr. Lee. For the plaintiff, Mr. Sollicitor General, Mr. Wallace, and Mr. Ranby.

November 30. Yeſterday morning an expreſs arrived at the Eaſt-India houſe in Leadenhall-ſtreet, from Holland, which came over land, and confirms the accounts we lately received, of a peace being concluded with Hyder Ally.

It is very unlikely that any ſecrets between the duke de Choiſeul and earl Harcourt ſhould tranſpire, when the intent of his journey was to prevent couriers, or even ſecretaries, being treacherous.

The remonſtrance and petition from the freeholders of the county of Buckingham, was yeſterday preſented to the King at the levee, by the honourable Thomas Hampden, chairman at the general meeting, the honourable Henry Grenville, John Aubrey, John Calcraft, and Edmund Burke, Eſqrs. all members of the houſe of commons. Lord Verney was unable to attend; and the honourable Sir William Stanhope, who had engaged to make the motion at the general meeting, was prevented, by illneſs, from giving his attendance, either at Aleſbury, or at court; he has ſigned the petition, which is ſigned alſo by above 1800 freeholders. Lord Temple was at the levee.

At the ſame time a petition from the freemen and freeholders of the city of Exeter, was preſented to his Majeſty.

The following gentlemen, that attended the ſeveral petitions, afterwards dined together at the Thatched-houſe: On the Buckinghamſhire, the honourable Mr. Hampden, the honourable Mr. Grenville, Edmund Burke, Eſq; Mr. Aubrey, Mr. Obrien, John Calcraft, Eſq. On the Exeter, Mr. Serjeant Glynn, John Buller, Eſq.

We can now inform the public with certainty, that neither England or France is at preſent diſpoſed for war; and that, in all probability, the Ruſſians and Turks will be the only belligerent powers for ſome time.

December 4. The public may be aſſured, that there is not the leaſt probability of a war; and that the parliament will not be diſſolved.

Lord MANSFIELD's SPEECH, as delivered by him after the arguments were concluded, for and againſt Mr. Vaughan, in the King's-Bench, on Monday laſt.

"I AM clear in my opinion on this matter. I ſhall firſt look to the complexion of the fact, and afterwards as it becomes a miſdemeanor in law. In regard then to the fact: Mr. Vaughan wants to purchaſe a reverſionary grant for his ſon of clerk of the crown for the iſland of Jamaica. He previouſly goes to my Lord Mayor, makes an affidavit of ſecrecy and payment of the purchaſe-money. He then writes a letter to the prime miniſter, acquainting him, that if he will procure him this place, he will fulfil the purports of the affidavit. Now, does not the very form in which this affair was carried on, ſtrongly intimate that Mr. Vaughan himſelf was conſcious that he was acting a wrong part? If the place was ſaleable, as many other offices are, why did he not take the uſual public forms? Why did he not openly treat with the ſeller? Or why did he not give the common ſecurities in this caſe by bond, bill, or note? No; all theſe uſual forms were ſet aſide, to make room for a propoſal darkly cloaked up in the form of an affidavit, that the money ſhould be paid, and the tranſaction kept an inviolable ſecret: Nay, ſo much was Mr. Vaughan afraid of its tranſpiring, that he particuliſhly requeſts in his letter, that if his grace ſhould not comply with his propoſal, that he would immediately return him his affidavits and letter.

"I ſhall next conſider it as a miſdemeanor in law------In all caſes where a criminal matter is tranſacted, the contracting parties are equally guilty. Now, I believe, it would be very readily admitted, had the Duke of Grafton accepted this propoſal, he would be amenable to the laws for a poſitive miſdemeanor --how then can his not doing ſo extenuate the guilt of Mr. Vaughan? As he has, nevertheleſs, fulfilled his part, by making his propoſal. And if we extend our conſideration of this affair a little further, if we conſider the perſon it was propoſed to, as well as the nature of the propoſal, the caſe will appear ſtill plainer. Here is an offer made to one of the King's Privy Counſellors, and the Firſt Lord of the Treaſury, to ſell, or procure to be ſold, a place, that the King himſelf could not ſell (as it beſtowed ſpeciali gratia.) Why is not this as plain as the ſun at noon-day, a daring attempt to overturn the very eſſence of this free conſtitution? Is it not endeavouring to invert the very nature of things? If ſuch an attempt was to be diſcharged with impunity, every man, let him be ever ſo infamous, provided he had money ſufficient, would bid boldly for the ſale of public offices, biſhopricks not excepted; and in this corrupted ſtate of the world, many perſons in power may be tempted to accede to ſuch propoſals, as if the laws did not openly hold them up, as illegal as well as diſhonourable. I could ſay a great deal more on this head, but as the caſe may come to be demurred, and probably laid before the ſupremeſt court in this kingdom, I ſhall decline it, leſt I ſhould be thought to influence the minds of any. However, in the preſent caſe, I am clear the rule ſhould be made abſolute."

December 26. A Great Perſonage, on reading in Junius's letter, 'The fortune which made you a ---, forbad you to have 'a friend;' replied, "hard fortune indeed! ſurely no one envies "my ſtation."

It is ſaid the Miniſtry are endeavouring, with the greateſt aſſiduity, to fix the laſt Junius upon Mr. Wilkes.

We are well informed that Lord C------m has declared in public, as well as to his Lordſhip's private friends, that he ſhall never reſt ſatisfied 'till the gaſh that has been given to the conſtitution, in the Middleſex election, is healed.

December 28. The Eaſt-India Company, on the concluſion of the preſent treaty, with Heider Ally, will, now they are free from the expences of war, poſſeſs an annual revenue of four hundred thouſand pounds in the Carnatic, beſides the profit of their trade at Madraſs. The above is diſtinct from the revenue called the Duanny, ariſing in Bengal, Bahar, and Orixa, of which the public have before had ſo many accounts.

Letters from India, from thoſe who are competent judges of the ſtate of the Eaſt-India Company's affairs in Indoſtan, inform, that they think them at preſent on a very good footing with reſpect to the proſpect of peace and ſecurity. It were to be wiſhed that the treaty with Heider Ally, had not been ſo precipitately made; becauſe in the ſituation he then was, it can ſcarcely be doubted, but that the company's forces muſt have gained a compleat victory over him. The terms of peace, nevertheleſs, are not diſadvantageous to the company, as they give up nothing to him, and put an end to a war, that, by loſs or expence, coſt them at leaſt 600,000l. a year.

December 30. We are informed, that the laſt advices from his Excellency the Earl of Harcourt, our Ambaſſador at the Court of Verſailles, contain matters of an extraordinary nature, and very alarming to our Miniſtry.

We are aſſured that ſome advices of great importance are hourly expected from Madrid.

It is reported, that a Great Perſonage has within theſe few days, had the real name of Junius, with the intelligence properly authenticated, ſent him by an anonymous hand, through the channel of the common poſt.

Yeſterday Lord George Sackville, and his Lady, ſet out to take poſſeſſion of the eſtate left him by the late Lady Betty Germain, at Drayton in Northamptonſhire.

Letters from Dantzick inform us, that orders have been given by her Imperial Majeſty to fit out another fleet of twelve ſhips of the line with the utmoſt expedition, the command of which, it is ſaid, will be given to M. Koſmin, a Ruſſian officer, who was educated in the Britiſh navy under the late Admiral Warren.

The Ruſſian army upon the frontiers of Turkey is to be augmented early in the ſpring with a body of 80,000 men, and it is aſſerted, that General Romanzow makes no doubt of penetrating even to the gates of Conſtantinople before the end of the next campaign.

January 2. They write from Vienna, that the Empreſs-Queen ſeems to have dropt her intention of ceding part of the Low Countries to France as a marriage portion for the future Dauphineſs, ſome intimations having been given her that ſuch a ſtep could not fail to bring on the reſentment of the maritime powers; and it is now ſaid that the Archdutches will have her fortune in money.

A private letter from Berlin ſays, "That a new treaty of alliance has been lately concluded between the Empreſs of Ruſſia and the King of Pruſſia, by which the latter engages to aſſiſt the former againſt the Turks, and the Confederates of Poland, with an army of 80,000 men, which are now on their march to Warſaw.

We hear that a petition from Mr. Wilkes will be preſented to the Houſe of Commons, at the beginning of the enſuing ſeſſions, deſiring the Houſe to examine the ſeveral parts of his former petition, which have not as yet been enquired into; ſuch as the evaſion of the Habeas Corpus; the cloſe commitment of their member for three days, without the permiſſion of ſeeing any perſon but his jailors, although charged only with a miſdemeanor; the breach of privilege, by ſerving a member of parliament with a ſubpœna; the counter notices, ſigned Summoning Officer, ſent to ſeveral of his jury only the day before the trial; and the papers ſeized under the general warrant, produced as evidence on his trial.

We are aſſured, from undoubted authority, that the preſent ſtate of the nation will undergo a ſerious conſideration at an enſuing meeting.

Lately died, at a little village called Stanſtead, in Eſſex, aged 120, Anthony Hammond, a huſbandman, who when a lad about 24 years of age, drove the baggage of King Charles II. to Newmarket races; he had lived 66 years with his ſecond wife.

January 4. A certain great man, whoſe appearance on the political ſtage has been long wiſhed for, is preparing to exhibit a very ſpirited ſcene on Tueſday next.

We are well informed, that Lord C---m intends to ſupport an entire new character on an enſuing occaſion.

A report ſtrongly prevails, that a number of very eminent merchants have a ſcheme in agitation, for preſenting a petition to the throne, ſetting forth the abſolute neceſſity of taking the American affairs under immediate conſideration.

We are told that the clerks of the T------y have received orders to account for the ſums paid to miniſterial hirelings under the head of neceſſary expences.

January 6. Yeſterday the Yorkſhire, Somerſetſhire, Herefordſhire, Northumberland, and Newcaſtle petitions, were preſented to his Majeſty at St. James's.

The ſame day the following gentlemen waited upon his Majeſty at St. James's, with the petition of the citizens of Briſtol, and were graciouſly received: Sir William Codrington, Bart. Richard Hippeſley Cox, Eſq; Mr. Henry Cruger, and Mr. Samuel Span, merchants of that city. The two laſt gentlemen were deputed by their fellow citizens to preſent the petition.

We are informed that the Briſtol petition was ſigned by 2445 freemen.

The petition of the county of York, (which is ſigned by near 11,000 freeholders) was preſented to his Majeſty by the following gentlemen: Sir James Ibbetſon, the High Sheriff, Sir Marmaduke Wyvil, Sir George Armytage, and Sir William Anderſon, Barts. John Stephenſon Hall, John Sylveſter Smith, Richard Wilſon, Benjamin Ferrand, John Milnes, and Samuel Shore, Eſqrs. His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive the ſame very graciouſly.

The York petition concludes thus, "Permit us then, Royal Sir, to implore your Majeſty to reſtore the confidence of your people in the juſtice of parliament, by ſending them to a new choice of repreſentatives, which will give your loyal ſubjects an opportunity of demonſtrating their zeal for the conſtitution, by a choice of men who will guard the honour of the crown, and ſupport the rights of the people."

In the Worceſterſhire petition, preſented yeſterday by Mr. Dowdeſwell, is the following paſſage: "Under pretence of "purſuing to ruin an individual, rendered eminent by their "perſecutions, but influenced in reality by deſigns of a more "dangerous nature, your m------rs have eſtabliſhed a rule and "example by which the beſt men may be deſtroyed for their beſt "endeavours in the ſervice of their country. For this w-ck-d "purpoſe, incapacities to be elected into parliament, arb----y "in their nature, and wholly unknown to the law of the land, "have been ſet againſt that ſacred and fundamental principle of "the conſtitution, that elections of members of parliament ought "to be free, &c."

It is certain that petitions now pour in faſter than they have done at any period ſince their commencement. Is it, can it be probable, that they will be totally diſregarded.

We are well informed that the petition of the county of Kent fills very faſt, and it is ſuppoſed will be ready for preſentation in a fortnight.

A proteſt from the town of Liverpool was yeſterday preſented to his Majeſty at St. James's, againſt the petition now ſolliciting in the ſaid town, deſiring his Majeſty, for certain reaſons, to diſſolve the preſent Parliament, which proteſt concludes as follows,

"To ſay that the houſe of commons is partial, unjuſt, or corrupt, or does any thing out of malice, is, in our opinion, highly criminal, and tends to raiſe a ſcandal upon the whole nation, whoſe repreſentatives they are. For theſe reaſons we cannot approve the matter, manner, or intent, of theſe petitions, and hope to be juſtified in making public the reaſons for our diſſent thereto. Our actions, in the moſt perilous and critical times, have proved us to be faithful ſubjects; and, we truſt, our conduct and candour in this affair, muſt prove us to be good citizens.

The London Evening Poſt has the following obſervation on the Liverpool proteſt:

"We read but of one nation (the Cappadocians) who refuſed Liberty when it was offered to them; and they are juſtly ſpoken of in hiſtory as the vileſt and moſt abject people upon earth.----- What name ſhall we give to Engliſhmen, who, though born to the glorious inheritance of perfect freedom, not only tacitly ſubmit to, but induſtriouſly ſolicit the yoke of ſlavery? As the members of this body are ambitious to be diſtinguiſhed as the firſt of ſlaves, it is hoped and believed they will alſo be the laſt; and the corporation of Liverpool remain for ever the ſingular object of contempt throughout this kingdom."

A council was held this morning at the Cockpit Royal, when ſeveral important regulations, previouſly neceſſary to the meeting of parliament, were determined upon.

It is pretty freely reported, that the firſt motion made in the H------ of C------, will be reſpecting the Middleſex election.

We hear that Lord C------m has a plan in contemplation, which, if executed, will intirely reconcile all parties, and give univerſal ſatisfaction.

Some very intereſting papers are come from Ireland, which will ſhortly be laid before the public.

It is now confidently aſſerted, that the celebrated Junius has ſet out on his travels into foreign parts.

We are well informed that a certain unpopular American Governor has refuſed the offer of a Peerage.

By the Captain of a veſſel arrived in town from Breſt, we are informed, that on the 16th of laſt month there ſailed from that port three tranſports with ammunition and warlike ſtores, under convoy of a 36 gun frigate, which had three companies of foot on board, bound for the iſland of Goree, on the coaſt of Africa.

It was yeſterday reported, that the duke de Choiſeul, in conſequence of a quarrel with Madam Barre, has reſigned all his poſts under the French government.

We hear that at a meeting of the commiſſioners of trade and plantations, ſome time ago, their Lordſhips took into conſideration a memorial of ſeveral merchants, containing propoſals for better regulating and encouraging the importation of pitch, tar, and turpentine, whoſe propoſitions were as follows, viz. "Firſt, that the bounty on the importation of green tar made in the manner preſcribed in the act which gives ſuch bounty, be altogether diſcontinued; there being little or no green tar imported or uſed in the manufactures of this kingdom. Secondly, that the duty of nine ſhillings and ſeven pence per laſt, of twelve barrels, payable upon common tar imported from North-America, be taken off, and the bounty of forty-four ſhillings per ton upon ſuch tar, be reduced to twenty-four ſhillings, but that no ſuch tar be entitled to the reduced bounty, or exempted from payment of the duty, unleſs ſhipped in America, and imported into this kingdom in well hooped caſks of thirty-two gallons. Thirdly, that the bounty of thirty ſhillings per ton, now payable upon turpentine imported from the colonies, be diſcontinued, and the duty of thirty-eight ſhillings per ton reduced to eight ſhillings per ton.---Fourthly, that the duty of nine ſhillings and ſeven pence per laſt, of twelve barrels of pitch, imported from the colonies, be taken off, and the bounty of twenty ſhillings per ton reduced to ten ſhillings." A bill, we hear, will be brought into parliament at the opening of the ſeſſions, for the regulations abovementioned; and there is no doubt of its paſſing immediately, as the treaſury and navy boards have approved of the plan. Tar is riſen in London to nine ſhillings per barrel, on account of the above regulations, and the late hurricane in North-Carolina.

PORTSMOUTH, January 3. This day came to Spithead, Admiral Elphinſtone, of the Ruſſian fleet, and was ſaluted by Admiral Geary: He ſailed from the Sound with eight other men of war, but his ſhip only is arrived. They ſay the ſhip is very leaky, and muſt come into the harbour to be docked.

HAGUE, November 13. We are now aſſured, that the emperor will ſet out very ſoon upon his tour to Great-Britain, and that immediately upon his arrival the grand alliance will be concluded, which will aſtoniſh Europe, and give univerſal joy; its firſt object being the ſecurity of the freedom and independency of every European ſtate: by this the freedom and ſecurity of the German empire will be for ever eſtabliſhed, a reſtoration will be made of its diſmembered provinces Lorrain, Bar and Alſace: ſix fortified places are to become an additional ſtrength to the Dutch barrier: The Pais Conquis, with Liſle and St. Omer's, will be reunited to Auſtrian Flanders: To Denmark will be guarantied, Holſtein, Hamburgh, and the iſland of Mauritius: To Pruſſia will be ceded the Swediſh Pomerania, Duſſeldrop, and the guaranty of Sileſia: To Ruſſia, Warſaw, Bender, Moldavia and the Leſſer Tartary, with the ſovereignty of the Black Sea: To the Palatinate, Worms, and the guaranty of Bavaria, and the Palatinate in the Houſe of Deuxponts: To the Canton of Bern, Pais de Gex, with the fort of La Cluſe: To Sardinia, Monaco, and the territory of Genoa: To Tuſcany, the Iſland of Corſica, with the Crown to the grand duke, and the liberty to the brave iſlanders of electing a parliament, with the right of taxation: To Rome, the reſtoration of Avignon, with the territory of St. Marino: To Naples, Benevento: To Venice, the Morea, and the coaſt of Adriatick from Dorino to Lepanto: To the Algerines, Ceuta and its territory: To Portugal, the iſland of Candia. By this treaty, the year 1770 would be rendered the epocha of the birth of univerſal liberty; and the emperor Joſeph-Benedict Auguſtus, and George the third of Great-Britain, would have the immortal glory of being eſteemed the guardians of the liberties of mankind. The Swiſs and German regiments are by this treaty to quit the French ſervice.

BOSTON, FEBRUARY 5.

By the laſt advice from England we learn, That the Miniſtry were ready to yield to the oppoſition----and that our old friend Sir Francis and his abettors, were at the end of their TETHER.

On Thurſday laſt the Brig Lydia, Captain Hood, failed for Briſtol, with a valuable cargo of Britiſh manufactures imported contrary to the agreement of the merchants.

A letter from the country mentions, that the inhabitants of ſome towns had unanimouſly reſolved never to purchaſe goods of any of the audacious importers, and that it was thought ſimilar meaſures would be taken throughout the province.

The wife and judicious, as well as the warm and patriotic merchants of this town, are charmed with the plans and conduct of their worthy brethren at Charles-Town, South-Carolina----- Poſterity muſt revere their writings and exertions in favour of the cauſe of liberty and their country, as much as they will deteſt the writings and behaviour of ſordid, ignorant (but very few) perſons in that flouriſhing province, who have oppoſed themſelves to them.

We are credibly informed, that upwards of 100 ladies at the North part of this town, have of their own free will and accord, come into and ſigned an agreement not to drink any TEA 'till the revenue acts are repealed.

AMERICA ſeems to have been very early concerned in the numbers 92 and 45: It was diſcovered in fourteen hundred 92, and the inhabitants of St. Salvador (the firſt land diſcovered) viſited Admiral Columbus in their canoes with 45 perſons in each.

NEW-YORK, FEBRUARY 12.

On Saturday morning laſt, a true female friend to American liberty, preſented Capt. M'Dougal with a fine ſaddle of veniſon, marked with the important No. 45, in alluſion to the 45th page of the votes and proceedings of our houſe of aſſembly, in which the paper that furniſhed the occaſion for that gentleman's commitment is printed at length. The abovementioned ſmall, tho' ſincere teſtimony of approbation, afforded an agreeable repaſt for himſelf and ſome of his friends, in whoſe ſentiments, even a gaol in connection with a noble ſtruggle for liberty, contains nothing horrible. Moſt people are of opinion, that his caſe is ſimilar to that of Mr. Wilkes, in inſtances more important than the No. 45, and even in this ſimilarity, many think there is ſomething providential. Capt. M'Dougal is ſo warmly eſpouſed, that in the two firſt days of his confinement, he was viſited as a true Son of Liberty, by upwards of two hundred of the friends of American liberty of all ranks.

PHILADELPHIA, FEBRUARY 19.

The General Aſſembly of the Province of New-Jerſey are ſummoned to meet at Burlington, on Wedneſday the 14th of next Month.

The Inhabitants of the Towns of Norwich and Weathersfield, in Connecticut, have entered into ſpirited Reſolutions to obſtruct the Importation of Britiſh Goods, with many other patriotic Proceedings.

We hear that ſeveral Gentlemen, Inhabitants of Anne-Arundel, Prince-George's, and Baltimore Counties, having met at Annapolis, to conſider in what Manner the Goods, brought by the Good-Intent, Capt. Errington, from London, ſhould be diſpoſed of, agreed, (to their laſting Honour) that the whole Cargo, to the Value of 15,000l. Sterling, ſhould be ſent back immediately; and the Veſſel was to ſail the firſt fair Wind.

CHARLES-TOWN, MARCH 6.

A PETITION has been preſented to the Legiſlature, by the Inhabitants of this Town, praying that a College may be inſtituted in this Province; and we learn, that the Pariſhes in the Country intend to follow the ſame laudable Example.

Yeſterday Morning the Reverend Mr. Whitefield ſet out on his Return to Georgia.

The Brig Prince of Wales, Thomas Maſon, Maſter, arrived here the ſame Afternoon from Philadelphia.

Several Thouſands of the Inhabitants of New-York lately aſſembled, and, with Muſic playing, and Colours flying, erected another POLE, or MONUMENT of LIBERTY, in that City, in the Room of the one which was lately deſtroyed by ſome of the Soldiers of the 16th Regiment.

This Day the Brig Hope, Captain Northam, arrived here from Rhode-Iſland, after a tedious Paſſage of 30 Days.
